

Appendix XXX - Summary of emails pre-complaint - request calculation method

Contents

The following are text from pdf summaries of emails and replies in which I request details of the approach to be used to calculate any refund.

Obviously my concern even then was that I was aware of the very high rates and very high bills I had received in 2002 & 2003 approx, so wanted to be sure these rates were factored into refund calculations.

As can be seen - I did not receive the information clearly requested on XXX occasions.

Emails

Emails are detailed in as-sent-as-received order. Oldest first.

Please find enclosed a photo of my gas meter reading. This seems to be substantially lower than your estimate. Please advise me what you intend to do about this, and in particular how you calculate any deduction from your estimated bill. Obviously you will have charged different rates across the duration of this overestimate. I would suggest you should use the max amount you have charged me since I first became an Octopus customer, to avoid unreasonable charges being made due to your estimating errors. Hope you are all well there at Octopus. Keep up the generally good work. Kind regards, M. C. Cope. M.C.Cope 07771636882

To: markcollinscope@gmail.com Hello Mark,

Thank you for sending over the photo of your gas meter reading. I appreciate your diligence in providing this information! I understand your concerns regarding the estimated bill and the potential discrepancies it may have caused. We will review your meter reading and compare it with our estimates to ensure that any necessary adjustments are made to your account. As for the calculation of deductions, we typically take the actual reading into account and adjust your bill accordingly. If your actual usage is lower than what was estimated, we will ensure that you are charged based on your actual consumption, which may involve using the maximum rate charged during your time with us if that is applicable. Rest assured, we aim to resolve this matter fairly and promptly.

If you need any further help or need to clear any doubts, I will be here to support you!

Sincerely, Cheila

So it's very unlikely they would have correct isn't it. Kinda obvious So I'd appreciate knowing. Hope you're all well there in Octoland. Thanks. M.C.Cope 07771636882
