This tariff might be subject to materially different terms and conditions, eligibility criteria, or may only be available for a limited period of time. If you want to change your tariff to one that requires a different meter from what you currently have, we might have to exchange your meter (you may be charged for this service). When changing electricity meters some safety and meter communication restrictions apply. If you have outstanding charges, you might be able to carry those charges over if you ever switch suppliers (in accordance with the Debt Assignment Protocol).

Remember - it might be worth thinking about switching your tariff or supplier.

Definitions

Volume conversion factor: this is when we convert your meter units to metric. If you have an imperial meter this will be 2.83, and if you have a metric meter this will be 1.

Volume correction: gas regulations require us to take into account the changes in your volume of gas based on temperature and pressure. We use the industry standard correction factor of 1.02264.

Calorific value: the measurement of the energy content of gas, which varies throughout the year.

Convert to kWh: this is the final stage of the process where we divide the answer by 3.6 to give the number of kilowatt-hours.

Formula

The calculation below is an example for a metric meter. To convert your own usage to kWh you'll need to use the figures shown on your 'gas used' page. There are two types of meters, an imperial with a 4 numbered meter reading or a metric that will show 5.

Where there has been a change in meter type, a change in calorific value, or we have more than one reading for you during this bill period; the calculation below will be done for each.

Check out our <https://www.ovoenergy.com/help/energy-bills-explained> for more information about your bill.
